New tenant? Don’t forget your TV Licence.
It is your responsibility to check if you need a TV Licence, even if the TV you use belongs to your landlord. If you need a licence, it’s important to buy one now or you could risk prosecution and a fine of up to £1,000,* plus any legal costs and/or compensation you may be ordered to pay. Officers from TV Licensing may call at any time, including evenings and weekends.

You need to be covered by a TV Licence to:

a) watch or record live TV programmes on any channel, or
b) download or watch BBC programmes on iPlayer.

This could be on any device, including a TV, desktop computer, laptop, mobile phone, tablet, games console, digital box or DVD/VHS recorder. And this applies whether the device is yours or your landlord’s. A colour licence costs £154.50 per year, and a black and white licence costs £52.00 per year.

Moved home recently?

Please let us know so we can move your licence to your new address. If you don’t tell us, your new home won’t be licensed. Please tell us by visiting tvlicensing.co.uk/moving or calling 0300 790 6112.

Could you get a concession?

Are you, or is someone you live with:

• 75 years old or older? You are eligible to apply for a free TV Licence. Call 0300 790 6112 with your National Insurance number to hand.

• 74 years old? You can apply for a short-term TV Licence to cover you until your 75th birthday.

If you live in the Channel Islands or Isle of Man, different conditions may apply. Call 0300 790 6112 to find out more.

• Blind and can provide the appropriate evidence? You are eligible to apply for a 50% concession. If you are partially sighted (sight impaired) you are not eligible. To apply, go to tvlicensing.co.uk/blind or post a photocopy of your document of blind registration or a certificate from your ophthalmologist with your licence number, phone number and cheque payment to TV Licensing, Blind Concession Group, Darlington DL98 1TL.

*The maximum fine is £2,000 in Guernsey.
